GRANDMA COMPANY
SOON TO START WORK

CALL FOR ANNUAL MEETING OF STOCKHOLDERS ISSUED BY DIRECTORS

The board of directors of the Grandma Mining company, the property of which adjoins on the east that of the Reorganized Kewanas Mining company, has issued a call for the annual meeting of the stockholders, to be held at Phoenix, Ariz., on November 2. An election of officers will be held and a program of operations for the following year mapped out. The Charles S. Sprague interests acquired control of the Grandma company last winter, says the Tribune.

Coinciding with the issuance of the call for the annual meeting, it was announced that the company, after being inactive for about eight years, will in the near future resume work on the property. In the early days of the camp at least a dozen prospect shafts varying in depth from 25 to more than 100 feet were sunk on the property. The first efforts of the company after the resumption of work will be devoted to exploring these shafts to determine which of them shall be continued down to the latite-shale contact, along or in close proximity to which the great storehouses of wealth have been disclosed in many of the local mines. The Grandma is one of the few properties in the district upon which a vein or veins outcrop. For a distance of about 800 feet and about 30 feet from the west side line, the outcroppings of a vein of great width and dipping to the east at an angle of 45 degrees can be seen.

One of the features of the fair will be the alfalfa palace, which will house a portion of the exhibits. A large pavilion will also be used for this purpose. The fair will be opened by the Alfalfa King and Dairy Queen, who will preside over all the events. The racing events promise to be exceptionally interesting. Low round trip rates are given on all railroads.

Mr. Ransome is the author of bulletin No. 66, issued by the geological survey in 1906, on the "Geology and Ore Deposits of Goldfield, Nevada."—Tribune.

ARTISTIC FINISHINGS
IN BUTLER THEATER

REMODELED PLAYHOUSE SHOWS
THE HANDIWORK OF W. T.
SOMERVILLE

The new Butler theater, so completely remodeled from the old as to be scarcely recognizable without or within, was painted and tinted by W. T. Somerville, a local artist with the brush. The exterior is in white and green. The walls are in light olive green and the ceiling in pea green, with trimmings in grass green, colors most restful to the eye, whether the lights are on or off. The effect of the green predominance in color is to make the pictures restful to the eye, instead of being an irritant through contrast. The floors of the main hall and balcony have been treated with sanitary oil.

In this case it is found that the First National Bank of Rhyolite, instead of foreclosing the chattel mortgage mentioned in the note, sold the mortgaged property and credited the amount on the note.

COPPER COMPANY
BEFORE COMMISSION

The Nevada Consolidated Copper company had a hearing before the state board of equalization this morning concerning the raise in valuation of its property by the commission. C. V. Jenkins, business manager, and Charles Chandler, attorney for the company, appeared in its behalf. The company has been raised in its valuation something like $1,500,000. This afternoon the Groux interests of White Pine county will be heard and following will be the delegation from Nye county which arrived this morning.—Tuesday's Appeal.

TEAM CHALLENGED

LOCAL SQUAD PRACTICING DAILY
UNDER DIRECTION OF COACH
WALKER

Considerable interest is being shown in the American game of football among the high schools of the state; an interest that should result in a well organized league. A letter, received this morning, from the Carson Indian school asks for competition from Tonopah. Ely has signified her intention of putting out a team, and Goldfield high school is expected to fall into line. A trip to Carson City could be financed by playing a series of games with the Indians, Fallon, Gardnerville, Carson City and Reno, should they play the old game. Every effort will be made to provide competition for the Tonopah High team, and it is likely that long trips will need to be made.

The squad is practicing daily under Coach Walker, and although the season is too early to predict the absolute caliber of the team, the men show an excellent spirit in their work, and great capacity for real clean fight.

W. H. McCurdy, an old favorite among the high schools of Indiana, and Ellsworth Bennett, head of the Tonopah School of Mines, and one time an All-Pacific football man, are taking a working interest in the squad. Their experience in many successful battles will add much toward an effective team. Conover, half-back for Lafayette college and a member of the All-American team in 1910, will also assist in working out and getting into shape, new and intricate plays.

AMUSEMENTS

PASTIME THEATER

History repeats itself. What was, will be again. "The Heart of Maryland," once the greatest of stage plays, is now the greatest of motion picture plays and with the original stage star, Mrs. Leslie Carter, in the role of Mary Calvert, which years ago firmly established her as a great emotional actress, leaves nothing to be desired. "The Heart of Maryland," in 200 scenes, required the efforts of 5000 people, including 1200 soldiers. Herbert Brenon, who produced "Neptune's Daughter," directed "The Heart of Maryland." It was produced at a cost of over $100,000, and was selected by Lee Shubert as the most appropriate production to open the gigantic Hippodrome of New York City when that house went into motion pictures on March 20th. It is a film version of Mrs. Leslie Carter's greatest success in the role she created and made famous. It is David Belasco's powerful story of the south, and was the picture selected which was to open the New Butler, but the theater was not finished quite as soon as expected and the picture will consequently be shown at the Pastime tonight, and is without doubt one of the greatest pictures ever brought to Tonopah.

Tomorrow, a William Fox production featuring Betty Nansen in "Should a Mother Tell." Opening of the New Butler on Friday night—a special program consisting of vaudeville and a fine feature picture. Box seats are now on sale at the Pastime and Butler offices.—Adv.
